3. Which data categories do we process and where do they come from?

We process personal data that you provide to us as part of the business relationship. If our business relationship is with your employer or client, we also collect the personal data from you or your employer or client. This includes the following data or categories of data:

- Master data (e.g. name and salutation, title, job title/description)
- Contact details (e.g. telephone number, fax number, email address, address)
- Communication data (e.g. content of personal, telephone or written communication)
Moreover, we process the following categories of personal data that we generate independently or receive from third parties (e.g. market analysts, customer platforms, social networks):

- Master data (e.g. customer number)
- Contract data (e.g. contract ID, contract history)
- Communication data (e.g. consulting protocols)
- Risk analysis data (location, financial status, political situation country, official news on changes e.g. in organizational conditions)
- Organizational data (internal contact person, department, department type, superior (assistant), system data (e.g. communication language)

4. For what purposes and on what legal basis is data processed?

We process your data in compliance with the provisions of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and all other applicable laws.

We primarily process personal data for the fulfillment of contractual obligations (Article 6 paragraph 1 lit. b GDPR), more precisely for the purpose of initiating, executing or fulfilling a contract. This includes, for example, placing orders, internal sales, shipping and payment of merchandise or contract negotiations.

Unless you are not yourself a contracting party (for example, you are an employee of a business partner), processing for the same purposes takes place as a legitimate interest in accordance with Article 6 paragraph 1 lit. f GDPR. With your employer/client, we are in the initiation or execution phase of a contractual relationship as part of our business activities. We are processing your personal data due to your activity for your employer/client.

If necessary, we also process personal data to fulfill statutory requirements (Article 6 paragraph 1 lit. c GDPR) for the following purposes:

- Preservation of statutory storage requirements
- Preservation of legal reporting obligations

Furthermore, we process personal data in order to safeguard the following legitimate interests (Article 6 paragraph 1 lit. f GDPR):

- Maintenance of the business relationship with existing customers
- Organization of events (for example, admission control)
- Asserting legal claims and defense in legal disputes
- Inclusion in our contact database, human relations after business contact (e.g. after leaving your business card)
- Direct marketing to customers or employees of customers (e.g. information about products and events, newsletters)
- Exchange in terms of common technical developments

In addition, we potentially process personal data for which we received consent (Article 6 paragraph 1 lit. a GDPR). We will collect them separately and in the following cases:

- Direct marketing to interested parties/other business contacts (e.g. information about products and events, newsletters)
5. Who receives your data?

Your data will be processed within the thyssenkrupp AG by the employees involved in the initiation/implementation of the business relationship and the execution of the respective business processes.

Within our group of companies your data will be transmitted to certain companies when they perform centralized data processing tasks for the group’s affiliated companies (e.g. centralized contact data management, centralized contract management, file disposal).

In addition, to fulfill our contractual and legal obligations, we sometimes use different external service providers who are required by data processing agreements to observe data protection laws, Article 4 No. 8 GDPR. These are service providers in the following areas:

- IT services
- Logistics
- Sourcing provider (platforms, consultant e.g. for special regions, sub-suppliers)
- Risk management (information bundled by one service provider)
- File/ data carrier disposal
- Leasing service provider (e.g. printer)
- Acquisition service provider for invoices (scan & capture)

In addition, we transmit your data to other recipients outside the company who process your data at their own responsibility, Article 4 No. 7 GDPR. For example, this may include the following categories of responsible persons:

- Public institutions due to statutory provisions (e.g. tax authorities)
- Third parties such as credit institutions, credit bureaus - if a transfer of legitimate interest is permissible
- Consulting service provider in terms of initiation of contractual business relations (new suppliers, new customers) locally and/or in support of contract conclusion and contract implementation / fulfillment

6. How long will your data be stored?

We process your personal data as long as it is necessary for the above referenced purposes. After completion of the business relationship your data will be stored as long as we are legally obligated to do so. This is regularly the result of legal proof and retention obligations, which are regulated in actual laws and contracts. According to these laws, the storage periods are up to 30 years. In addition, it may be necessary to retain personal data for the time during which claims can be asserted against us (statutory limitation period of 30 years).
7. Are you required to provide your data?

There is no contractual or legal obligation to provide personal data. However, without processing your personal data, we are not in a position to carry out the necessary pre-contractual measures or execute the contractual relationship with you or your employer/client.

8. Is your data transmitted to a third country?

To the extent necessary for the above purposes, we also transmit data to group companies or service providers outside the European Economic Area (EEA). Such a transmission takes place in the following cases:

- tk Camshafts companies worldwide (USA, Mexico, China, Brasil) in terms of initiation of contractual business relations as well as for contract implementation and fulfillment

This is done in compliance with data protection requirements, in particular the assurance of an adequate level of data protection. The assurance is provided by a suitable guarantee (e.g. in the form of a standard data protection clause according to Article 46 paragraph 2 lit. c GDPR, which is agreed with the respective recipient). You may request additional information, in particular copies of these appropriate guarantees, by using the contact details mentioned in section 2 below.

9. Which data protection rights can you claim as the person affected?

You have the right to request information about the data stored about you, Art. 15 GDPR. In addition, you may request the rectification or erasure of your data, Art. 16, 17 GDPR. You may also be entitled to restrict the processing of your data and a right to release the data you provided in a structured, common, machine-readable format, provided this does not affect the rights and freedoms of others, Art. 18, 20 GDPR.

If you have given us consent to the processing of your personal data, you can revoke this consent at any time. The legality of the processing carried out based on the consent until the revocation remains unaffected.

To exercise your rights, please contact the responsible body or data protection officer listed under section 2.

In addition, you have a right of objection, which is explained in more detail at the end of this privacy policy.
You also have the option to file a complaint with a data protection authority, Art. 77 GDPR. The right of appeal is without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy. The data protection authority responsible for us is:

State Commissioner for Data Protection Saxony-Anhalt
Office and visiting adress: Leiterstraße 9, 39104 Magdeburg
Postal adress: Postfach 1947, 39009 Magdeburg
E-Mail: poststelle@lfdsachsen-anhalt.de

Fax: 0391 81803-33

Status as of: 24.06.2019

Information about your right of objection according to Art. 21 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

For reasons that arise from your particular situation, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data at any time pursuant to Article 6 para. 1 f of the GDPR (data processing on the basis of a balance of interests); this also applies to any profiling based on this provision as defined in Article 4 No. 4 GDPR.

If you file your objection, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can establish compelling legitimate grounds for processing that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is for the purposes of asserting, exercising or defending legal claims.

In individual cases, we may also process your personal data in order to generate direct mail. You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data used for such advertising at any time; this also applies to profiling insofar as it is associated with such direct mail advertising.

If you object to the processing for direct marketing, we will no longer process your personal data for these purposes.

The objection can be informal and should ideally be addressed with the responsible body or data protection officer listed in the privacy statement under section 2.
